RTES final project

Andrej Gorjan

June 13, 2021

1 Hardware design

For the final project, the goal was to implement a web server that would compress text files with a custom encoding algorithm and then send them to the user. Due to it's simplicity I chose Huffman coding for the compression.